THE CHILDREN'S ART CENTRE
36 RUTLAND STREET, BOSTON, MASS.
Tel. 536-9666
MISS CHARLOTTE DEMPSEY, Director

Classes in painting — clay modeling — sketching — craft work

Amidst the clatter and rumble of Boston's busy South End is the Children's Art Centre. Here, for over 45 years, boys and girls from Metropolitan Boston and its suburbs have found a place where they have freedom to spend their leisure time constructively and find enthusiastic recognition for their talents and efforts. The Children's Art Centre is more than just an art gallery—it is a studio-workshop where children receive instruction in all forms of art from highly creative instructors.

An internationally recognized fine arts museum, the Children's Art Centre has on exhibit, at all times, selected works by professional artists.

Children from five years old through teenage are encouraged to use the Centre. Classes are conducted daily in painting, drawing, sculpture and crafts.
- Open weekdays from 9-5
- Open Saturdays from 9-11:30 September through June

There is a registration fee.

Materials and instruction are free.

Sparking the program are special events scheduled for inspiring illustrative material—dance festivals, "let's pretend jaunts" to other lands led by foreign visitors and "see your city" sketching trips.

The experience of the children is active. The trying, the rejecting, the experimenting add up to a lively aesthetic experience that makes Art not just a matter of listening and looking but rather a matter of feeling and doing.
